	[PEDL3_K05] In terms of competence, graduates are prepared to recognise the specific characteristics of the local environment and to cooperate for the benefit of pupils, students and that environment		The graduate is ready to show empathy to pupils or students who need support and assistance		[SK2] presentation/project/paper/report
Subject contents	The main goal of the course is to familiarize students with the key institutions where they will have the opportunity to work after graduation. However, before direct contact with a specific institution or its representative occurs, students are required to familiarize themselves with the legal regulations governing its operation and obtain general information about it based on the literature provided by the instructor and independently selected by the students. The course is practical in nature, providing students with a general understanding of the functioning of the resocialization system in Poland. This course does not involve any methodological activities. Contact with the institution is a one-time event. A competent employee provides students with a general overview of its goals and operational procedures, as well as information on the legal documents under which the institution operates, its staff, employment criteria, and the profile of its residents, as well as the preventive, educational, and rehabilitation methods used at the institution and their effectiveness. After a theoretical introduction, students have the opportunity to tour the facility and ask questions of the staff members about their work. Students are also expected to formulate their own observations and reflections that could improve the effectiveness of the institutions visited/discussed.
