Subject contents	The subject covers comprehensive issues related to the forwarding process in foreign trade. The role of the forwarder at individual stages of international deliveries and the importance of proper preparation of the logistics process are discussed. Particular attention is paid to the terms of delivery in foreign trade, including the interpretation of Incoterms clauses, as well as the importance of transport insurance in minimizing operational risk. The classes analyze forwarding and transport agreements, with particular emphasis on the General Polish Forwarding Conditions (OPWS), as well as important international conventions regulating forwarding and transport activities, including CMR, TIR, and the Convention on Sea Transport. Current EU regulations will also be discussed, including the Mobility Package and its impact on the activities of carriers and forwarders. Part of the course is also devoted to financial issues, such as the terms of payment for goods in international transactions and customs procedures necessary in foreign trade. This is complemented by the topic of security in forwarding and transport, covering both operational issues and compliance with applicable international regulations. 1.
