| Subject objectives                          | Introducing the student to the problems of Polish museology. Museums, i.e. places where we can learn about history told through objects, for anthropologists are places of "rituals of modernity". In the course of the lecture, the student will receive concrete knowledge about the most important Polish museums, their collections and their history. |                                                          |                                         |                                     |         |                                                                                                                                                |     |
